

The inhabitants of Lego Twitter must entirely complete a list of demands. Negotiation is not allowed for these demands to be made more lenient. If these demands are not completed by 15 January, 2019, then a state of war will exist between Lego Twitter and the Internet Room-led coalition. Refusal to complete these demands will allow the immediate declaration of a state of war. If the two recipients in bold ignore this document, then the immediate declaration of a state of war is allowed. This document will come into effect once it is sent to all 6 of the recipients.

Demands
